Executive Summary

Gives Lane County capacity to build and maintain effective relationships with key funding sources, in particular state legislature and U.S. Congress. Accomplished through managing issues, relationships and the legislative process. Includes defending the county's authority and ability to manage resources by running interference on state/federal legislation that imposes costs, restricts flexibility or otherwise diminishes capacity to meet the needs of local citizens through local general government. Manages issues, relationships and communications with other local government partners, including cities, school districts, higher education, transit district and regional planning authority.
