PROPOSAL: A request for a Floodplain Development Permit pursuant to Lane Code 16.244/10.271.

PROPOSED DEVELOPMENT DESCRIPTION:

New Building

Residential Type: Stick built (e.g dwelling or guest house) Manufactured home

Non-residential (e.g. commercial or industrial structures)

Other. Please describe:

Version 2/2023

Please note that this permit will result in conditioning structural elevation or dry flood proofing of the proposed structure. If the structure is residential, then the first finished floor of the structure must be elevated. For example, the structure can be elevated with stem wall construction or columns/piers/pilings. If you are proposing elevation on fill material, please use the Floodplain Fill/Removal permit application. Please note that fill is not the recommended method for elevation.

If the structure is non-residential, then you have the option to elevate or dry flood proof the structure. Dry flood proofing means the structure is watertight, with walls substantially impermeable to the passage of water as certified by a registered professional engineer.

Lane Code 16.244(5)(a)(xi) requires that no new dwellings (excluding replacement dwellings and temporary medical hardship dwellings) be located within the special flood hazard area (SFHA) unless the applicant demonstrates that locations outside of the SFHA are infeasible for development.

Is your property entirely within the SFHA? Yes No

If no and you are proposing a dwelling in the SFHA, what is/are the reason(s) there is no alternative area outside of the SFHA for the dwelling?

Check any of the following that apply and provide supporting evidence (note, the burden of proof is on the applicant):

- Lane Code Chapter 16 or 15 development setbacks cannot be met outside of the floodplain. Provide a written statement and site plan demonstrating that setbacks cannot be met outside of the floodplain.
- A protected riparian setback area (Class I stream subject to Lane Code 16.253) or wetland area regulated by the Department of State Lands prevents the dwelling from being located outside of the floodplain. - In the forest zones (F-1 and F-2), slopes greater than 40% prevent establishing the dwelling outside of the floodplain; and in any zone, the dwelling cannot be placed 15 feet from the toe of a slope or 40 feet from the top of a slope that exceeds 20%. Provide evidence depicting slopes on the property, such as contour or LiDAR maps or a topographic survey.
